UNFPA MANAGEMENT RESPONSE

Country Programme Evaluation (2011-2015): Cambodia

Note: The following management response lists the recommendations as they appear in the evaluation report. Please refer to the report for more details on each recommendation. Recommendations may be organized by clusters, e.g.: strategic recommendations and recommendations associated with the country programme. Within each cluster, recommendations should be ranked by priority levels (high, medium, low).

Instructions for completing the management response:

1. Boxes in white to be completed upon receiving the present request
2. Boxes in grey to be completed one year later.

CLUSTER 1: STRATEGIC RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommendation #1

To: Cambodia Country Office

Priority level: Medium

CLUSTER 1: STRATEGIC RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommendation #2

To: Cambodia Country Office

Priority level: Medium

Increased availability and use of Sexual and Reproductive Health Services: Provide technical and financial support to MoH for the development of a Human Resource Capacity Assessment and Improvement Plan, identifying skill gaps of midwives and other medical staff. In response to the capacity gaps, UNFPA should support the MoH's Department of Human Resource and the national reproductive health programme to update the national midwifery curriculum to be standardized in line with the WHO/ICM Standard. Moreover, providing routine coaching/supervision of midwives trained and further follow up on the regulations/norms/standards for midwifery training in order to enhance the quality of EmONC services.

Management response: Partially accepted

The Human Resource Capacity Assessment and Improvement Plan is the role of WHO with the Ministry of Health and the process of reviewing the Health Human Resource Assessment and updating the Health Human Resource Improvement/Development Plan is underway, with WHO's financial and technical support. UNFPA needs to focus only on midwifery in view of the new Strategic Plan 2014-2017.

CLUSTER 1: STRATEGIC RECOMMENDATIONS:Recommendation #3*To: Cambodia Country Office*Priority level: Medium

Increased availability and use of Sexual and Reproductive Health Services: include a focus on awareness raising and interventions on family planning including men in the approach to family planning.

Management response: Partially accepted

Awareness on family is very high from all CDHS's conducted which is in the range of 95%, thus there is no need to focus much more on awareness raising interventions. But rather, it is imperative to focus programme efforts on improving positive behavior and attitude toward family planning as well as to reach out to young people through media intervention on family planning.

Recommendation #4	To: Cambodia Country Office	Priority level: Medium
--------------------------	------------------------------------	-------------------------------

Priority on Adolescents and Youth: Increase attention to access to quality SRH/FP information and services of youth, including youth friendly clinical services, in particular vulnerable and marginalized groups including mobile/migrant workers, EWs and un-reached youth. Continue support to the SMART girl programme, CSE for school students and out of school youth and support to the Love9 programme;

Management response : Partially accepted
 While it is agreed that the nature of programmatic focus will be along the line of the recommendation, engaging with specific programmes currently implemented by NGO implementing partners might not necessarily be guaranteed given the UNFPA policy in relation to IP selection as part of the new country programme. Specific interventions requiring partnership with civil society organizations will be determined through a competitive selection process.

Recommendation #5	To: Cambodia Country Office	Priority level: Medium
--------------------------	------------------------------------	-------------------------------

Priority on Adolescents and Youth: Play a leadership role in addressing teenage and unwanted pregnancies, making use of the quantitative data of the CDHS and advocating for adequate national and sub-national responses. Provide support to address teenage pregnancies, including attention to the age of first marriage, educational performance, exposure to family planning messages on mass media and of use of contraceptives by youth, all identified as entry points in the UNFPA supported study on teenage pregnancy in Cambodia. Seek linkage with other UN agencies as part of the UNDAF process to address the issue of teenage pregnancies from multiple perspectives, making use of an integrated holistic approach.

Priority on Adolescents and Youth: Support the development of a simple monitoring mechanism to the youth development policy and train selected stakeholder in target provinces to use this tool to assess local situation of youth. Follow up on the implementation of the youth policy.
Management response: Partially accepted Given the highly political sensitivity of multi support to implementation of the National Policy for Youth Development and the long delay in establishing a high level coordination mechanism, this support may require a significant amount of time to engage the appropriate ministerial level to reach a consensus as to who to take the leadership role in coordinating, implementing and monitoring of the policy.

Priority on Adolescents and Youth: Support to the development of student learning materials for the implementation of the CSE curriculum and strengthening of the quality of CSE programme through close follow-up and monitoring of results.

Management response: Partially Accepted

The Country Office considers the support to the development of student learning materials for the implementation of the CSE curriculum and strengthening of the quality of CSE a priority for the next CPAP 2016-2018 and has been working hard to officially integrate the CSE into the national curriculum. However, the successful integration of the CSE to become a mandatory subject would be completely dependent on the commitment of and policy decisions by the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports.

Recommendation #10	To: Cambodia Country Office	Priority level: Medium
---------------------------	------------------------------------	-------------------------------

Advanced Gender Equality and women's and girls' empowerment: Prioritize and concentrate UNFPA support to VAW with a focus on SRH by utilizing the national guideline for managing violence against women and children in the health system and the clinical guideline for health officials. Support the effective involvement of men and boys to the prevention of VAW through strengthening the multi-coordinated response mechanism in pilot areas in coordination with all relevant stakeholders including WCCC/CCWC, PDoWA and other line departments at provincial level, police, health officials and civil society organizations.

Management response: Partially accepted

The government has no multi-coordinated response for VAW in place. At the moment, this type of intervention relies on NGO support. The CO will address this issue from the health angle, and therefore support MoH to initiate the health sector component for multi-sectoral response to VAW/G in UNFPA prioritizes location.

Recommendation #13	To: Cambodia Country Office	Priority level: Medium
---------------------------	------------------------------------	-------------------------------

Advanced Gender Equality and women's and girls' empowerment: Continue contributing to the PBA in gender in order to enhance aid-effectiveness and to ensure coordination of UNFPA support with the inputs of other development partners in a harmonized approach in line with Government policies on VAW and NAPVAW II.

Management response: : Rejected
 There has been no concrete action by the government especially the Ministry of Women's Affairs in moving toward the programme based approach. Despite having worked in pushing for this PBA at MoWA, along with other key development partners, no major move has been demonstrated and the PBA elements remain unclear and fragmented. The required systems for a PBA have not taken shape. The CO continue to monitor the developments in this area, but will not be committed to supporting the PBA at MoWA in the next country programme until there is a clear and comprehensive PBA picture, not to mention the readiness of the lead government ministry. UNFPA will participate in relevant coordination working groups under the Ministry of Women including the Technical working groups on GBV and Gender as well as the UN theme group on gender to ensure a coordinated approach.

Management response : Partially Accepted
The National Institute of Statistics is currently equipped with enhanced statistical capacity following years of support from various development partners. Recommendation #21	To: Cambodia Country Office		Priority level: Medium
Strengthened policies through evidence-based analysis of population dynamics: Continue support to Provincial and District councils in their strengthening of the WCCC at provincial and CCWC at district and commune levels: e) enhance monitoring at district and provincial level with inputs from commune level, in order for experiences and learnings to be captured so that the initiative can serve as a model for other regions in Cambodia;
Management response: Rejected There is a clear division of labour among the development partners working in the D&D sector. In the IP3 Phase II, it is envisaged the M&E capacity of these two levels will be strengthened, and will be supported by other development partners.. The IP3 Phase is currently moving toward this direction by working to strengthen an integrated planning system for both provincial and district levels where the sub-national development efforts are to be systematically planned and monitored for progress. Therefore, UNFPA is not well placed to work in this area, rather focuses on sensitization for effective planning.

Management response: Rejected The National Committee for Sub-national Democratic Development (NCDD) in collaboration with key development partners has developed a National Strategic Framework on Social Accountability and the Implementation Plan for the Social Accountability Framework (ISAF) for 2015-2018. Through this ISAF, the government is working with civil society organizations in selected districts/provinces to strengthen the accountability of services providers and civil engagement. UNFPA will be working with the NCDSDS and the Ministry of Planning to ensure that the review of the sub-national planning guidelines incorporate a focus of including young people in the sub-national planning process, and at the same time build capacity of planners at sub-national level.

Strengthened policies through evidence-based analysis of population dynamics: Continue support to Provincial and District councils in their strengthening of the WCCC at provincial and CCWC at district and commune levels: g) agree with UNICEF on a division of support in geographical terms and sharing of experiences and learnings on a regular basis.
Management response: Partially accepted This recommendation is not relevant as the nature of work is covered in the ongoing collaboration. UNFPA and UNICEF teams both at the senior management and technical levels regularly meet in relevant platforms (Technical Working Group on Decentralization and Deconcentration and donor working Group on D&D) that hold discussions on issues related to Decentralization & Deconcentration (D&D) in addition to daily conversations through emails and other means. In such platforms, both UNFPA and UNICEF raised, exchanged and discussed issues of common interest. The country office will continue to maintain this information sharing avenues to ensure that our programmes avoid overlap and produce synergies. The above nature of work will be carried on in the formulation of the UNFPA Country Programme Action Plan 2016-2018 where UNICEF will be invited to be part of the consultative process to ensure proper coordination of interventions and identify synergies where appropriate.

Recommendation #24	To: Cambodia Country Office	Priority level: Medium
Strengthened policies through evidence-based analysis of population dynamics: Explore options to support strengthening data gathering of local level population database to enhance quality and their use for sub-national planning.
Management response: Partially accepted In large part due to the existing institutional arrangement, efforts to work on CDB improvement appear to be off-limit to prospective external development partners. The local population database used by commune planners provides some useful information for their planning purpose. It covers a wide range of socio-economic indicators of each commune and the data is aggregated at provincial level. Data from this database is generated and updated annually by village chiefs under the overall support of the Ministry of Planning. However, there is a strong need for institutional arrangement in such a way that the Ministry of Planning recalibrates the national statistical system to allow entry point whereby the CDB has a clear linkage with the central statistical database (CamInfo, CensusInfo). This requires a bold move in addition to strong political will on the part of the government. Not until this is in place any such attempt is unlikely to make a dent.
